Ruby developer for distributed application development

★★★★★ 5.00 Jan 2019 - Feb 2019

This set of the work involved some unconventional implementation logic and practices, Fabrizio took time to understand the features and provided a working solution. He was diligent in providing status updates and progress notes throughout the project. Definitely one of the hard working developers I have come across here at Upwork. Though this current iteration of features stretched his abilities, he was capable of explaining his approach and asking for feedback with the solution. Most importantly he was not afraid to get/ask for help when needed if something was not clear. (this in my books is a rare skill among developers) I look forward to exploring more projects with him in the near future.

Experienced Ruby and jQuery/Bootstrap Developer

Fabrizio was a great addition for the project. He surpassed my expectations on the mini project, and helped develop a versatile solution that can be easily enhanced for any new data point additions. The work was for UI representation for a variety of CRUD operations with a slightly complex Postgres data schema. Fabrizio was quick to grasp the requirements, and most importantly could follow the project specs shared via Google Docs. The work was completed a bit ahead of schedule, and he was available for minor change requests. In my Upwork experience it is quite rare to find developers like this, and hoping to work with him in some of my upcoming projects.

Ruby Developer to help with very basic scripting queries

★★★★★ 5.00 Nov 2018

Fabrizio took the job I requested and exceeded the expectations. I was after a fairly simple script to monitor changes of data via an API. He created essentially a mini-application for me to be able to do what I required and a lot more, with a lot of room for growth in the application in the future.

I look forward to working with Fabrizio again in the future.
